

RELIEF REACHES JAPAN

BONDS FOR THREE STREET PAVINGS ARE AUTHORIZED

Final Legal Steps Taken By Council For Improvement Of Streets.

$6,670 POLLUTION VERDICT IS PAID

Require Written Petitions For Improvement Of Alleys In City.

Bonds amounting to $26,429.56 will be sold to cover the city's share of the paving of Lincoln ave., Washington st. and Sharp st. City council Tuesday night passed the ordinance that marks the final legal step in preparing for paving of the three streets long delayed for one reason or another.

Of this amount $18,424.25 will go for surfacing Lincoln ave. with a 2 1/2-inch asphaltic pavement; $3,488.68 for surfacing Washington st. to Franklin ave. with a two-inch covering of asphalt, and $4,506.63 will pay the city's share of the brick pavement on Sharp st.

The bonds will be sold at par and 5 1/2 per cent interest. It is unlikely that all three streets will be finished until early spring but the money will be ready when needed.

Council passed an ordinance providing for the payment of about 20 damage cases against the city totalling $6,670 ordered by the common pleas court with court costs amounting to $400.30.

These suits were decided some time ago and the ordinance merely gave the sinking fund trustees authority to pay the judgments rendered by the court. Pollution of a stream flowing northwest of the city was the basis of the suits.

Improvement Petitions
Council decided Tuesday night that anyone desiring alleys to be paved, improved, or made, should file a written petition setting forth just what is desired the same as is necessary when a street is paved or improved.

This step was found necessary since oral notices and requests have poured in to the streets, alleys and sidewalk committee to pave certain alleys, grade and improve others and in some cases have alleys constructed, all at the city's expense.

Council feels that if the alleys are so necessary to more than one person the residents in that locality should get together and decide what is necessary and then council will act on the matter. Information regarding the drawing up of the necessary petitions may be had at the city solicitor's office. No petitions will be considered unless drawn up in the proper manner and in good faith.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR COUNTY FAIR

Putting Finishing Touches On Improvements To Fair Grounds.

Already preparations for the county fair which is scheduled for next week are on in full blast. Race horses which have been campaigning at other fairs are arriving, and truck loads of stable supplies are coming in from all directions.

A gang of carpenters is busy taking care of the changes necessary in the stalls and other buildings, and the ground committee is hustling to clean up the lawns and midway in preparation for the crowds of visitors. Painters have finished the new structures and fences. Judges stand and other necessary adjuncts are being put into position rapidly. The whole fair grounds is a scene of intense activity.

Secretary H. E. Marsden is positive that this fair will be one of the best in the history of the county. With new and better accommodations for handling the crowds and for the comfort of the visitors, with an entry list that seems to be fair to pass any previous record, the coming exhibition has bright prospects.

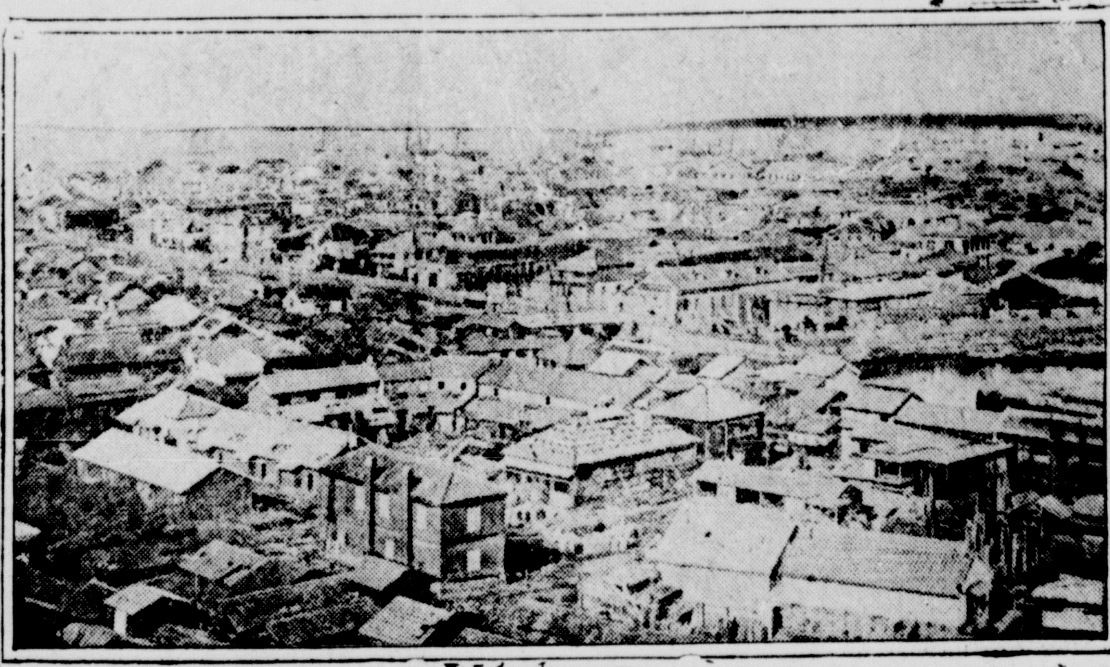

Boy Falls From Tree, Fractures Right Arm

Raymond Knepper, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knepper, Perry st., sustained a compound fracture to his right arm when he fell from a tree at the Salem golf course Tuesday night.

The boy was taken to the City hospital where the bone was set and he was later removed to his home in Perry st.

Raymond and some other boys are camping near the golf links and he had climbed a tree for sport when he lost his balance and fell to the ground.

TO TREAT PUPILS WHO HAVE GOITER

Board Of Education Will Furnish Iodine Tablets To Girls From Seventh Grade Up.

The board of education has agreed to furnish iodine tablets at the office of Miss Nellie Lewis, the school nurse, to be given to all girls from the seventh grade up, who are suffering from goitre or want the tablets as a preventative measure.

The parents of the girls must signify that they want their children treated and those parents who can will be asked to pay for the treatment which will amount to only a trivial sum.

Some time ago after the goitre lecture and discussion by Dr. O. P. Kimball, Cleveland physician, a movement was started to furnish iodine treatment to all girls who had goitre. The board believes that if parents desire their children to be treated it will be best to have at all times in the nurse's office a supply of these tablets.

Although there were five bidders for the contract for resurfacing the Goshen rd., when bids were opened by county commissioners Tuesday, the letting was not completed. The commissioners announced that the matter would be held up until certain details could be taken up with the Perry township trustees.

A bid of $100,000 was received by the commissioners viewed the completion of a road contract near Win-

BROTHER IN JAPAN, SALEM MAN AWAITS WORD OF HIS FATE

Rev. Ralph West, Brother Of Roy West, Teacher In College In Tokio.

FATE OF OTHERS ALSO IN DOUBT

Residents Of Alliance And Lisbon Anxious Concerning Relatives.

Roy C. West, Ohio ave., is anxiously awaiting some news concerning the fate of his brother, Rev. Ralph E. West, a Methodist minister in Tokio, Japan.

Rev. West, who has been teaching in Aoyama Gakuin, a Methodist college in Tokio, for one and a half years had been spending his summer vacation at the base of Mt. Fuji, now in eruption. His brother here received a letter from him six weeks ago stating that he had climbed to the top of the famous mountain, but no word has come from him since the earthquake and fire a few days ago.

Roy West wired the secretary of the Methodist foreign board of missions at New York for information, but the latter advised him that no word had come from the Methodist board had come from the Methodist minister in Northern New Jersey.

Sister In Japan
Lisbon, Sept. 5—The fate of Mrs. George Ferver of Youngstown, who about six months ago sailed for Japan and who is known to have been in Tokio, during the earthquake, is greatly concerning her sister, Mrs. Erastus Eells, of Lisbon. Until cable communication can be re-established and definite word received, Lisbon relatives of Mrs. Ferver will hope that she has escaped.

In Quake Zone
Alliance, Sept. 5—Grave concern is felt by Alliance relatives for the safety of Rev. and Mrs. S. R. Luthy, Methodist missionaries, who may be in the stricken earthquake zone in Japan.

STEAL ARTICLES IN VILLAGE JAIL

Marshal's Badge And His Uniform, Consisting Of One Cap, Not Disturbed By Thief.

Niles, Sept. 5—Newton Falls, a village north of this city, experienced a jail delivery with reverse English last night.

When the marshal visited the calaboose this morning he found that some miscreant with no sense of honor had broken into the bastille and taken there from several articles of small intrinsic value.

The marshal's badge and uniform—consisting of one cap—were not disturbed.

Order has been restored.

Destroyers Take Soundings In Yokohama Harbor

Washington, Sept. 5—American destroyers, led by the Stewart, Captain E. B. Pettigrew commanding, have reached Yokohama, it was announced today, and soundings of the harbor are being taken. The Stewart is equipped with sonic depth finders, most modern instrument for determining navigable waters.

Soundings are considered necessary in Yokohama harbor because of the upheaval that has taken place upon the floor of the ocean there.

The Japanese embassy here today received its first direct word from Tokio since the earthquake and fire disaster, indicating that progress is being made toward reopening of communication with the stricken capital.

The message today was from Yamamoto, the new premier and foreign minister, and merely reported the formation of the new government.

The names of Okano and Haranuma named in press reports as the new ministers of education and justice respectively, advised leading to a suspicion that they have been injured or killed.

ASSISTANT COACH CHOSEN FOR HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS

Bruce Swanson, Ohio State Graduate, Will Aid Coach Richtman.

CATHERINE VOTAW WILL BE TEACHER

Miss Lewis Re-elected As School Nurse; Band To Use Reilly Field.

Bruce Swanson, aged 25, a graduate of the college of education and the coaching school of Dr. J. W. Wilce of Ohio State university in 1921, was named assistant coach of the Salem high football team and teacher of science and history by the board of education Tuesday night.

The appointment of Swanson insures a full time assistant to the new head coach, S. C. Richtman who arrived Wednesday and will meet all candidates for the squad Wednesday at 3 o'clock. Swanson is not expected before the last of the week when regular practice is scheduled to start.

Swanson comes to the city highly recommended by the famous Ohio State coach. He will be a specialist in the forward pass so highly developed at State. Swanson was for one year assistant librarian of the Cleveland Public Library.

The time of the public school nurse Miss Nellie Lewis, had expired and voted to retain her for another year. The board approved her past work and voted to retain her for another year.

Orville Whinnery was selected as the Columbia st. building janitor by the board. Will Whinnery, who has been janitor of the school, will be shifted to the Fourth st. building to fill the vacancy existing there.

New Teacher Chosen
Lillian Hayes, selected to teach one of the grades, resigned, and the board appointed Miss Catherine Votaw, a graduate of Salem High school, to fill the position. Miss Votaw has been at Kent Normal school for the past year.

A letter received from the state advised that half of any salaries paid to teachers of a night school would be paid by the state. Last year when the board started a night school very little interest was manifested and the board Tuesday night deferred any definite action until it can be ascertained whether the public wants a night school. Any one in favor of the school and who will attend is asked to communicate with Supt. J. S. Alan immediately and he will transmit the information to the board.

The board accepted plans and specifications submitted by the Oswley company of Youngstown to raise tower of Fourth st. building, ordered term of four years because it is in danger of falling, and the work will be done as soon as a contracting or wrecking company turns in a satisfactory bid. After the tower is razed a new roof will be constructed over the place where the tower was. Quaker City band was given permission to hold a concert at Reilly field.

ALLOTMENT PLAN BEFORE COUNCIL

Company Proposes To Give Bond To Insure Completion Of Work.

If the streets, alleys and sidewalks committee reports favorably the Ohio Land Co. will be given permission next meeting night to go ahead with any improvements and grading that the city engineer finds necessary when he makes the survey of the allotment, it was indicated at the meeting of city council Tuesday night.

An agent of the company presented the proposition to council. The company would offer bond of $8,000 to insure payment for all work that will be necessary in improving the allotment in any way that council may order, and according to the estimates furnished by City Engineer French. The work must be done within one year.

E. S. Romine, president of the company and a resident of Wheeling, W. Va., is named as surety for the bond. Romine is the backer of the amusement park which is to be constructed, according to present plans, adjacent to the allotment.

Council voted to delay final action on the ordinance authorizing the company to go ahead with their plans and approving the entire proposition, until next meeting.

Several members of council unofficially voiced the opinion that the allotment if properly graded and improved according to council's demands, would be a good thing for the city in that it would increase the city's population and mean more homes, helping the crowded situation that now faces the city.

The allotment lies only partly in the city limits, most of it being in the county.

Supplies Received By Stricken Cities; 300,000 Lose Lives

Communication Is Partially Restored With 100-Mile Japanese Area Devastated By Quakes, Fires, Tidal Waves.

Communication was partially restored with the Japanese area devastated by earthquakes, fire storms and tidal waves.

The estimates of dead became more conservative. The dead total may not exceed 300,000.

American Ambassador Woods reported from Tokio that casualties in that city are now estimated at only 10,000.

All Americans are safe in Tokio.

The Japanese consul general at Shanghai, however, estimated the dead at Tokio at 130,000.

The first supplies of relief crews have reached the ravaged district around Tokio. Food and medicine are badly needed by the hundreds of thousands of fugitives.

Within a few days a steady stream of food, clothing, shelter tents, blankets and medicine will be pouring in to Japan.

Vice Consul Jenks, an American, is reported dead. The Italian ambassador at Tokio was killed.

A million and a half people in stricken Tokio are facing starvation.

Yokohama was completely destroyed, not a building being left standing, according to a private telegram. The work of reconstruction will start at once. It is estimated that Japan will lose $500,000,000 worth of supplies from the United States.

100-Mile Area Laid Waste
Shanghai, Sept. 5.—With the re-establishment of partial communication in Japan, the unprecedented disaster which has stunned the world and rendered millions of persons in the island empire homeless, with a loss of life variously estimated at from 300,000 to 500,000, the catastrophe is being unfolded to an anxious world in dispiriting patches today which are trickling through direct from the stricken country for the first time since the earthquake, conflagration and tidal wave laid waste to an area said to be 100 miles square.

The property damage is incalculable.

Twenty-four foreigners, including several Americans, are known to have lost their lives in the calamity at Yokohama. The number of dead in the capital city of Tokio which is almost completely destroyed is unknown. Earlier reports indicate the foreign

FEW AMERICANS KILLED IN JAPAN

Report Few Fatalities In Yokohama But No Americans In Tokio.

Washington, Sept. 5.—No Americans are believed to have lost their lives in the fire in Tokio although it was reported that some were killed in Yokohama, Cyrus E. Woods, the American ambassador to Japan cabled Acting Secretary of State Phillips today.

Wood estimated the total dead in the city of Tokio at 10,000, a figure far below previous unofficial estimates of the past two days.

The situation in Yokohama, the city hardest hit by the earthquake, was described as exceedingly serious but Woods said it was still impossible to tell how many Americans had been killed or injured.

The food situation remains serious throughout the stricken area despite the arrival of some ships and supplies.

Wood made another urgent plea that supplies be rushed from the Philippines by cable and wireless from the state department that ships were leaving Manila today with food, medical equipment and other material.

Woods' Message
Ambassador Woods' message was sent from Iwak, and relayed at San Francisco. The text of the note was: "Communication has just been opened up with Yokohama."

"The situation there is exceedingly serious."

"Some Americans are reported to have lost their lives."

"The casualties in Tokio are estimated at 10,000. I believe all Americans in Tokio are safe. The food situation is acute."

"Send supplies from the Philippines as already requested."

Earl R. Elko, the American consul at Kobe, cabled official confirmation of the death of Paul E. Jenks, the American vice-consul at Yokohama. His home was in Brooklyn.

quarters of the city was demolished with possible heavy loss of foreign lives.

Electric lights in the Tokio wards of Hongko and Koishikawa were turned on for the first time in almost a week. Seven of the wards or suburbs were obliterated. A portion of water supply system in the remaining wards has been repaired and these communities are being served.

A Tokio reporter of the Asahi, a newspaper, escaped in the heights of the Zismic disturbance at Yokohama, Sunday night and after three days and nights travel by foot reached Osaka today.

He reported that all towns and villages between the two cities had been demolished with an appalling loss of life. These communities included Hachioji, Atsuki, Hiratsuka, Kodzu and Tomotama.

216 Quake Shocks
Confirmation has been received that the populous island of Oshima, with its 50,000 souls, has been inundated with not a trace remaining.

From Peking came reports that ten thousand refugees who had taken refuge in the military depot at Tokio were burned to death.

All cities, towns and hamlets of Izu, Tokai, Boso and Minura peninsulas were wiped out. The total population of the peninsula is more than 100,000.

Two hundred and sixteen distinct earthquakes were felt in Yokohama and Tokio last Saturday. Fifty-seven of the tremors were felt in a three-hour period, from 8 to 11 a. m.

Six warships, laden with immediate necessities, have reached Yokohama harbor from the Japanese naval station at Kure.

Only an approximate estimate of the loss of life will ever be known. In many cases, the devastating fire entirely obliterated all trace of humanity. Thousands were drowned in the engulfing huge tidal wave.

Navigation in the harbor at Yokohama is impossible. The floor of the bay has been raised to such a degree as to make it unsafe for vessels.

Light-houses were washed away. Numerous craft have been beached.

The response for relief from a sympathetic world was instantaneous. Relief ships have already arrived off Yokohama and hundreds of others heavily laden with food, clothing and medical supplies are enroute to Japan.

Japanese, American consul and wife; American vice-consul Paul Jenks; E. G. Babbitt, formerly American commercial attaché of San Francisco, who arrived two days before the disaster, his wife and two daughters; French Consul General DeJardin; L. C. Morrison, Hongkong and Shanghai Bank; Rev. Father Lebady; Dr. Edwin Wheeler; A. H. Tait, manager of Charters Bank; A. B. McDougal, Charters bank.

Health Audit

ONE of the obvious ways open to us for prolonged human life is in the insistence on the necessity of taking a physical examination at least once each year. Naturally there will be a considerable period of preparation and education before this ideal condition is attained and yet if we are to realize our full potentialities as a nation, we must ultimately come to the physical-examination-once-a-year idea.

Our experiences during the war afforded convincing proof that one of the prime essentials for the development of a nation of healthy citizens is the regular physical examination. It is not a pleasing fact to dwell on that at least one-third of the young men of this nation were rejected for service because of physical or mental disability. Had these young men benefited by regular medical advice there would have been little question concerning physical fitness.

And these represented the flower of our manhood. What of those who have traveled farther toward or beyond the meridian of life? Of several hundred thousand persons, who have had a thorough physical examination, it is startling to learn that three out of every four have physical defects. Many of these defects could have been rectified early in life if these individuals had been in the habit of undergoing frequent examination.

The majority of our insurance companies recognize this fact and investigations have proved that the group of policyholders which submits to an annual examination possesses a life expectancy vastly more promising than the group which does not.

As Dr. Matthias Nicoll, Jr., health commissioner of New York, states, "A health examination is a complete physical overhauling, a human appraisal. It is an evaluation of health assets and disease liabilities. It is an inventory, a stock taking, an audit of the best of all business, the business of life."

Truer words were never spoken.

Japan!

THROUGH the combined devastation of power, earthquakes, fire, typhoons and tidal waves, Japan today looks more like a charred and broken shell than the land of the rising sun. The country must be numbered among the devastated catastrophes in the tragedy of human history. It appears certain that two hundred and fifty thousand people have been destroyed, millions impoverished and made homeless and other millions threatened with famine and other evil fortune.

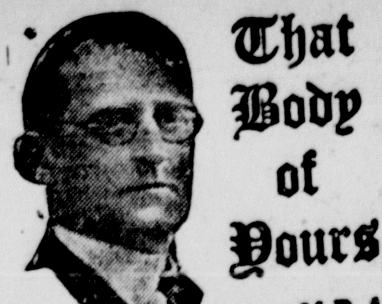

But the ships of sister nations are rushing to the relief of the stricken empire. The shocked and sympathetic heart of humanity instantly has responded to the call of duty in the hour of a people's travail.

What may be done in the matter of relief will be done to the fullest extent of the ability of every civilized country.

Japan suffers a staggering blow which will be felt in every avenue and department of the national life. Much that was revered and cherished because of its traditional or historical interest has been swept away, but the native vigor and initiative of the people of the island empire may be trusted to bring them through their tremendous experience of loss and disaster, hopeful for the future.

Wood Duck Hunting Prohibited.

Wood ducks may not be hunted in Minnesota or in any other state at any season, according to the biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture, which administers the migratory-bird treaty act. This is a federal law under which the hunting, killing, or possessing of wood ducks is prohibited at all times throughout the United States and by treaty throughout Canada also. This game law, having been upheld by the United States Supreme court, makes inoperative the amendment to the game laws of Minnesota passed at the last session of the state legislature, providing an open season on wood ducks. Thus, hunters will not be allowed to exercise the privilege accorded them by the state law, and persons found hunting, killing, or possessing wood ducks at any time will be subject to prosecution in the Federal courts.

SPEED

In thinking over the inventions of the last half century, telephone, automobile, airplane, wireless, the one outstanding thing is "speed." You can communicate by telephone instantaneously, travel a hundred miles an hour in an automobile, twice that rate in an airplane, and can wireless a message across an ocean in two or three minutes.

Elevators must be speedy to suit us. In other words the whole life about us is one of speed.

Now what is the effect upon that body of yours with so much speed about you?

Your body has not changed much. It has been about the same for thousands of years.

You use the same eyes, ears, and mouth, the same lungs, heart, and intestine, the same great great grandfather used. He ate, drank, worked and slept even as you do.

How then are you different?

Have you a better brain? When you think of some of the big men of the past you hesitate to say so.

No! the difference is simply in the nervous system. The terrific speed all around you affects you greatly. Everything you do must be done in a hurry.

Remember I'm not saying it is not as well done as in the past, but the fact remains you do it in a hurry.

This is a terrible strain on the nervous system, and so people afflicted with "nerves" are a more common spectacle than at any previous time in our history.

It may show in hysteria, depression, melancholia, neurasthenia, or other forms.

Now why do I go into this matter?

Because the only rational way to combat this demon speed is to keep that body of yours in shape.

Your nerves will reflect your general health, so that if you get outdoors every day, eat just enough food for your needs, do a reasonable amount of work or exercise, with some recreation or occupation for the mind, you should not be disturbed by the speed about you, because you have attained the poise necessary to meet it.

A Lady

Came in our store
The other day
From Youngstown
And bought one of our
Medicine Cabinets
And the reason was
That she had seen
As she passed thru
Our busy town
Our line of Cabinets
In our show window
And then went home
And tried all round
In Youngstown stores
And couldn't find
In any store
The kind she wanted
And so she came Back to Salem
And purchased one
That suited her
And said that she
Would come again
And buy a Mirror
Because they too
Appealed to her
As being worth
The price we ask.
And so we thought
That if you knew
That Youngstown folks
Come over here
To get these things
It might remind you
That you were going
To get something
A Cabinet or Mirror.
Now we feel sure
That we have the best
Mirrors and Cabinets
And the best prices too.
And we'd like to have
You look around.
As the lady did
That came from Youngstown
And then we'll rest
Our case with you.
We thank you.

TIDAL WAVE WIPES OUT 3 PRINCIPAL SUMMER RESORTS

Washington, Sept. 5.—All the principal summer resorts of Japan apparently were wiped out in the great catastrophe, officials of the Japanese embassy said today after a study of press reports. Three of the empire's greatest resorts, housing the summer homes of Japan's richest merchant princes, were in the group of cities reported destroyed.

These were the cities of Kamakura having a population of 18,000, Odawara 23,000 and Hachioji 40,000. All three are seacoast cities, with fishermen's families in the majority of their population. A huge tidal wave, following the earlier earthquake, was said to have completely inundated the cities with great loss of life.

Embassy officials today feared for the lives of hundreds of the empire's most prominent citizens who are known to spend their summers at seaside estates along the seacoast. The territory frequented by the weather Japanese, the embassy said appears to have been practically wiped out.

The population of other cities, reported destroyed, were cited by embassy officials as follows:

Chiba, 33,000; Kawaguchi, 14,000; Kofu, 55,000; Gotomba, 8,000; Koyama, 17,000; Mishima, 15,000; Atami, 8,000; Shimada, 7,000; Ito, 12,000; Shizuoka, 74,000; Nagoya, 430,000; Yokohama 500,000; and Aokio, about 4,000,000.

With scores of other towns situated in the devastated area, embassy officials believed fully ten million people were in the path of destruction. They were fearful that ultimately the death toll will mount to hundreds of thousands of persons because of the crowded condition of residential sections.

Scientists from all parts of the world are flocking to southern California to study the total eclipse of the sun that will occur there on Sept. 10, the first time the phenomenon has been visible in the United States in 54 years. All the delicate instruments from the Mt. Wilson observatory have been set up there. Dr. Oliver J. DUNDEE-LEONARD BOUT POSTPONED TO SEPTEMBER 27

New York, Sept. 5.—The big news on New York's great fight mart today was the postponement of the Lenny Leonard-Johnnie Dundee world's lightweight bout from tonight to Sept. 27, and a declaration by William Klein, an attorney for Manager Paddy Mullins of Harris Wills, that he plans to try and stop the Jack Dempsey-Luis Firpo fight on Sept. 14, by an injunction.

In the case of Leonard and Dundee, there was no great lament as far as could be learned, but the Klein-Mullins-Wills intentions caused quite a stir. The Dempsey-Firpo fight is dwarfing all fights into near insignificance, the boys are all hopped up over it, and if held up, there would be great lament, indeed. The fans didn't seem to care whether Leonard or Dundee fought or not.

"I am first going to find out the legal status of the case," Klein stated, "and then I intend to act. Personally, I think Manager Mullins and his fighter, Wills, have a good case. They have turned over to me a contract signed by Jack Dempsey, which as I understand, was drawn up under the supervision of the state boxing commission. The commission has, since July, 1922, put off sanctioning of the bout, but last week suddenly granted a license for the Dempsey-Firpo bout."

A New Novel By Booth Tarkington

The Midlander

A novel by Booth Tarkington is always the literary event of the year. You can read his newest one before it is published in book form! For it begins in the October issue of

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL

It will be complete in four installments! In fact, each of the eight full-length novels coming during the next 12 months will finish in four or fewer issues!

Generous installments of serial, so that you're not reading one story for many months. Isn't that what you've always wanted? Following "The Midlanders" come novels by Zane Grey, Sophie Kerr, Joseph C. Lincoln and others. And, of course, fiction is only one feature! Besides the serial and four short stories in October, Otis Skinner begins his reminiscences and Margaret Tuttle begins her series on women successful in business. There's a lesson on how to make your afternoon dress, and fashions for the business woman who buys her clothes. May I call and tell you about still other features? Only $1.50 pays for 12 such numbers!

NO BOON IN CHEAP MONEY

One thing that has to be given up is the idea that cheap money is always good for business. Farmers want cheap money, business men want cheap money, stock speculators want cheap money, the U. S. Treasury wants to float government loans on cheap money, socialists, anarchists and old-line greenbackers want very, very cheap money. Everybody feels that when the money rate is shoved up it is an arbitrary damper on prosperity.

But we cannot have both a low rate on money and a stable level of prices. We can have one or the other—not both together for any length of time. A low rate of money means an inflated price level. A stable price level means a fluctuating rate of discount. That is, the public must learn to look at the price level instead of the bank reserves, as their measure of expectation for a rise or fall of the value of money.

Now this fact makes me feel that a mistake is made if we do not fully explain to the public the power already exercised by the bank rate and the Federal Reserve Board and Reserve banks. Our bankers and economists see the bad use that is likely to be made of political control of banking and currency and they try to make the people believe that so intricate a question must be left to experts.

As a matter of fact our present methods encourage the very thing we wish to avoid. We let everybody believe that low rates on money are necessary for prosperity and then when bank reserves run low on account of the effects of this belief, we are suddenly compelled to jump the rates to protect the reserves. We get both a cycle of prices and a cycle of bank rates, whereas, if the public understood that the rise of bank rates should not wait until bank reserves are low, but the rates should be advanced several months ahead for the very purpose of preventing a fictitious prosperity with its inflated price level, then the public might be satisfied to support the administrative regulations which raise the rates at a time when there seems to be no need of doing it.—John R. Commons, University of Wisconsin.

No word has been received from them since the earthquake, the congested condition of the cables and the disorder in the troubled zone making it impossible to get word through.

PINCHOT RESUMES COAL CONFERENCE

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 5.—Fighting with his back to the wall, Gov. Gifford Pinchot today prepared for still another meeting with the anthracite operators and miners, whose differences precipitated a strike in the hard coal fields last Friday.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the governor called one more coal conference together and incidentally plans to launch his supreme political effort. Having failed to stop the walkout he will endeavor to bring the two factions together and make the stoppage of production of as short duration as possible.

Settlement—so far as Pinchot is concerned—will be reached on the basis laid down by him last week. This basis includes a 10 per cent wage increase, establishment of a basic eight-hour day, recognition of the principle of collective bargaining and full recognition of the union with a semi-check-off.

COOLIDGE FACES GRAVE PROBLEMS

IF HE CAN SOLVE THEM SATISFACTORILY HE WILL WIN CONSIDERABLE RENOWN.

RAILROADS AND COAL LEAD

Agricultural Troubles Also Do Not Seem to Have Passed—President Said to Be Firm Believer in the World Court.

By EDWARD B. CLARK
Washington.—President Coolidge, at work in the White House, has plenty to do. "Politicians and even the office seekers are courting his companionship. He still keeps his own counsel, but there are those who think he is more communicative than he was in the days of his vice presidency.

The real administration of President Coolidge, of course, has just begun. Most of the problems which face him are hard to solve. Others carry a part of the factors for solution with them, and still others of high importance are those whose initial terms are still undetermined.

The problem of the railroads has been handed down to President Coolidge. He may find the solution. It is probable that if it is satisfactory to the conflicting elements concerned and to the people, the solving will be considered one of the great acts of his presidency.

Today there is in process of formation a new policy for the American merchant marine. The shipping board officials have in hand the work of collecting and presenting the factors which must be used to make possible an answer to a question which has vexed two administrations.

Then there is "coal." The country, with its memories of shortages in pinching winter weather, is demanding a solution of the coal problem. The country wants fuel, and perhaps does not care much how it gets it so long as it does get it; but the administration in its efforts to produce results must give consideration not only to next winter but to the winters that are to come.

Farm Troubles Still Alive.

Some Republicans here insist that the agricultural problem already has been solved. It is true that legislation was enacted under the Harding administration which was supposed to relieve the farmer, make the consumer comfortably happy and to remove from the field of politics and economics a nettle that was as poisonous as the three-leafed ivy.

If President Coolidge has been hearing, as doubtless he has, the voices which have been raised recently in Iowa, in the Dakotas and in Minnesota, he probably has his own views of the truthfulness of the statement that agriculture has passed from the period of troubling. It is bound to be one of the fighting subjects in the next congress. Some men may owe his nomination to the presidency to his belief or non-belief in the statement that the farmer problem no longer is a problem. It is probable that agriculture alone will determine the question of the formation of a third party with its candidate for the presidency.

President Coolidge is known as a conservative, but he was bred on a farm. His father and grandfather were farmers trying to get their living from an almost wholly reluctant soil. The President is sympathetic with the farmer, but his friends say that when it comes to the question of curing ills he knows the difference between a nostrum and a specific.

Strong for the World Court.

American membership in the world court is the subject that has been uppermost in the politicians' minds here ever since the announcement of the death of President Harding. Some of the manifestations on this subject during the days of mourning for the President have been almost indecent. The subject has excluded almost entirely the discussion of the purely domestic matters. The word still is that President Coolidge is in favor of Harding's world court policy and so strongly in favor of it that he does not even approve of the reservations which seemingly President Harding was willing to accept.

One cannot tell how much truth there is in the story, but it is pretty generally believed in Washington that when the late W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts came to Washington in the days of the Wilson administration to urge Republican senators to stand by the terms of the Wilson league policy, President Coolidge, then governor of Massachusetts, sympathized with Mr. Crane's efforts and attempted to forward them. A Massachusetts man, who has known the President for some years and who is now in Washington, has told the writer that the President not only favors American membership in the world court but would not lament if the United States should join the League of Nations.

The President has taken up the duties of his administration "on his own." He has a burden heavier perhaps than that of President Harding. It might be that some of the annoying labors which President Harding ought not to have performed but which he insisted upon performing may not fall to the lot of his successor today, but the heavy burden of work is here and happily Calvin Coolidge seems to be physically able to carry it.

Deaf Can Hear Says Science

New Invention Aids Thousands

Here's good news for all who suffer from deafness. The Dictograph Products Corporation announces the perfection of a remarkable device which has enabled thousands of deaf persons to hear as well as ever. The makers of this wonderful device say it is too much to expect you to believe this, so they are going to give you a chance to try it at home. They offer to send it prepaid parcel post on a one-day free trial. They do not send it C. O. D.—they require no deposit—there is no obligation. They send it entirely at their own expense and risk. They are making this extraordinary offer well knowing that the magic of this little instrument will so amaze and delight the user that the chances of its being returned are very slight. Thousands have already accepted this offer and report most gratifying results. There's no longer any need that you should endure the mental and physical strain which comes from a constant effort to hear. Now you can mingle with your friends without that feeling of sensitiveness from which all deaf persons suffer. Now you can take your place in the social and business world to which your talents entitle you and from which your affliction has, in a measure, excluded you. Just send your name and address to the Dictograph Products Corporation, Suite 1332, 220 W. 42nd St., New York, for descriptive literature and request blank.

Taft Tax Act and Referendum
in State of Siege.

AWAIT SUPREME COURT RULING

Assistant Welfare Director McNamara Demands Investigation of Charges Preferred Against Him by Attorney General Crabbe—Crops in Ohio This Year of the Bumper Variety.

Columbus, Sept. 5.—The question whether taxes will be collected next year under the Taft taxation act or under the laws now in effect is confronting the state tax commission and the auditors of the 88 counties of Ohio. At the same time election officials of the state from the secretary of state, as chief supervisor of elections down to the respective county boards, are in a quandary regarding the possibility of their being required to submit to the voters in November a referendum against the Taft act.

According to a statement issued at the office of Secretary of State Brown the situation is anomalous. The statement avers that the Taft and Albaugh laws, enacted by the recent general assembly, are in a state of siege on the part of those who oppose their acceptance, and the efforts of the latter to bring a popular referendum against the laws are in turn the subject of attack.

The Taft law was enacted on March 30, was vetoed by the governor on April 18, was repassed by the general assembly, notwithstanding the objections of the chief executive, and was placed on file with the secretary of state on April 30. The Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards then announced that it would sponsor a referendum and petitions alleged to bear signatures of a sufficient number of qualified electors to legalize the referendum submission were filed with the secretary of state on July 27.

On Aug. 4 a protest was filed by Representative Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati, author of the measure, and by Law Director Dotson of Toledo, charging that many of the signatures on the petitions were invalid. At the same time it was asserted that the Taft law is not subject to referendum attack, because it is a tax-levying act.

Secretary of State Brown called a hearing to determine whether the petitions were of such a character as to meet the requirements of the law and the constitution with regard to their form and their verification and sufficiency. John E. McCrehen, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, appeared at the hearing with a writ of prohibition from Chief Justice Marshall, restraining the secretary of state from proceeding with the inquiry, on the ground that it constituted a usurpation of power.

The McCrehen suit effectually blocked the efforts of the secretary of state in carrying out his mandatory duties as prescribed by the constitution and in the meantime the Taft faction has tied his hands from another angle, having obtained an injunction in common pleas court restraining him from returning the petitions to the board of elections in the counties where the signatures were obtained, for verification as to the sufficiency of the signatures.

Thus bound about by judicial restrictions, the secretary of state finds himself obliged to await the outcome of the suits now pending. The McCrehen suit will be argued before the supreme court on Sept. 25, the first day of the fall term of court and little more than a month before the November election, at which it is proposed to submit the referendum.

The annual report of Mrs. Louis Mittenfior, superintendent of the Ohio reformatory for women, near Marysville, shows that 204 inmates of the institution have 212 children or relatives dependent on state support. Of the 186 committed during the past year, 126 were married, 34 single, 19 divorced and seven widowed. Sixty of the inmates are from Cuyahoga county, 21 from Stark county, 18 from Summit county, 14 from Montgomery county, 13 from Hamilton county and seven from Franklin county.

The report shows only one inmate has a college education, 12 never attended any school and 156 have only a common school education. Sixty-three of the prisoners used intoxicating liquor, 47 smoked cigarettes and 18 were narcotic addicts.

The emergency board refused to make an appropriation to meet the demands of guards at the penitentiary for an increase in wages, as approved by Welfare Director John E. Harper recently. The men threatened to walk out, if the demands were not met.

The board also declined to provide funds for a general increase in salaries of guards and attendants in all the state institutions on the ground that funds are not available.

In lieu of making an emergency appropriation to increase the salaries of the penitentiary guards, the board recommends that Director Harper reduce the number of guards and apply the salaries of those eliminated from the service to those who remain. It is also recommended that the guards employed in the manufacturing plants at the penitentiary be placed on the payroll of the division of manufactures and sales, which division's appropriation shows a surplus.

No specific recommendation concerning the number of guards to be dismissed was made at the meeting. During the discussion it was tentatively suggested that the elimination of 15 of the men would assist in bringing up the salaries of the others.

Crops in Ohio this year are of the bumper variety, according to estimates made by the United States department of agriculture.

This year's Ohio corn crop exceeds that of last year by more than 20,000,000 bushels, according to the estimate, which specifies a probable yield of 170,745,000 bushels this year, as against an actual yield of 149,037,000 bushels last year.

The Buckeye wheat yield is nearly 10,000,000 bushels greater than last year. The department estimates this year's wheat crop at 44,674,000 bushels, as against a yield of 35,224,000 bushels last year.

The Ohio oats crop has kept pace with corn and wheat. The department's forecast of this year's Ohio oats crop is 53,510,000 bushels, as against 39,744,000 bushels last year. This is an increase of 13,766,000 bushels.

The Ohio crop of barley this year is estimated by the department to be 2,039,000 bushels, as against a yield of 1,424,000 bushels last year, an increase of 615,000 bushels. Rye shows an increase from 1,285,000 bushels to 1,260,000 bushels.

Ohio's apple crop is estimated by the department at 10,753,000 bushels, as against 7,298,000 bushels last year, an increase of 3,455,000 bushels.

The state's sugar beet crop is estimated at 329,000 tons, as against last year's yield of 229,000 tons, an increase of 119,000 tons, and the Ohio tobacco crop is about 10,000,000 pounds greater this year than last, the estimate for this year being 56,515,000 pounds.

Attorney General Crabbe filed with Governor Donahey a series of charges against John McNamara, Sr., assistant welfare director, alleging misconduct and other acts of such a nature that if any of them are true, Mr. McNamara is wholly unfit to fill the important position which he now holds.

Seventeen specific charges are made by the attorney general, one of them being that Mr. McNamara, "inspired the pretended charges against Mrs. Mae Stannard," former chief matron of the girls' industrial school, and declaring the "greatest injury to the said institution" resulted.

Application of acid to the burns sustained by an inmate of the institution, resulting in amputation of her arm, is another of the charges listed, for which McNamara and Mrs. McNamara, the latter being chief matron of the girls' school at the time, are held responsible "through carelessness and negligence under the administration" while they were in charge.

Misconduct of Mr. McNamara with "a certain woman employee," extreme cruelty on his part while serving as superintendent of grounds, conversion of state property to his own and his friends' use, immorality and intimate relations with girl inmates on the part of Raymond McNamara, a son, are other accusations cited.

Mr. McNamara issued the following statement: "The charges are the most damnable trumped-up affairs ever directed against any individual. They are entirely false." Supplementing his denial of the charges verbally, McNamara issued the following statement:

"It is rather significant that charges of such a serious nature should be made at this time, when Mrs. McNamara is making a fight for her very life. I shall certainly request Governor Donahey to conduct a full and impartial investigation."

It is rumored at the capitol that George T. Poor of Cincinnati, chairman of the public utilities commission, will be removed from office by Governor Donahey within a few days. The removal will be on the strength of the opinion given Governor Donahey by Attorney General Crabbe, holding that Poor may be removed if he owns stock in a utility corporation subject to control by the commission.

It is said the governor will remove Poor and thereby require the Cincinnati man to go into supreme court to seek reinstatement. Such a court action would involve determination whether Poor was the owner of stock in the Cities Service company, as charged by the governor, and whether ownership of stock in such a corporation conflicts with the law relating to qualification for membership on the utilities commission. Donahey, early in the year, requested Poor to resign but Poor refused to comply.

Governor Donahey has announced the appointment of D. O. Thompson of Coshocton as chief of the state fish and game commission. Thompson is a Democrat and served for six months as superintendent of the state board of pardon and parole, until the board was succeeded by the new state clemency board.

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes and back of beauty—Health—working silently—Red blood tingling through the veins;—the glow of youth in the cheeks;—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk;—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved-for attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1826, has been ridding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema, and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientifically prepared and proportioned. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. It is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

STARS TO PILOT SALEM QUAKERS

Litty Is Named Temporary Captain; Webber Will Manage Team.

Jean "Pete" Litty, former Salem High star, was elected temporary captain and Roland Webber, former Salem High and Ohio State lineman of note, was named manager of the Salem Quakers, a newly organized aggregation of football stars, at the first practice at Kelly field Tuesday night.

Organizers of the team state that a first class team of about 160 pounds average will be placed on the gridiron this fall. The 30 candidates who answered the first call will be joined by several out of town players at the next practice which will be held Friday night. A permanent captain will be named at that time.

Manager Webber is arranging the schedule which will include the fast Peerless Motors of Youngstown and many other reputable teams. It is thought that on Saturdays when Salem High does not use the field the Quakers will play at home games. Further plans will be made Friday, Webber stated.

SKILLED IN "HIGH FINANCE"

Employee's Story Should Have Warned Banker That He Was Unsafe Man to Have Around.

A neighbor of mine dropped in at meal time recently to tell me of a St. Louis banker friend who met in a self-serve restaurant one of his own employees. As the banker and his clerk sat munching their simple rations, the employee happened to look at his watch.

"Handsome watch, that," remarked the banker.

"Yes," replied the clerk, "it is a nice watch. Funny thing about that, too"—and he went on to tell how he happened to buy the watch. It seems that he was short of money at a roadhouse one night and was obliged to cash a check for $40, though he chanced at that moment to have no funds to his credit. The next morning he tried to borrow money to deposit before the check should come in, but was unable to raise more than $5. While wondering what to do, he happened to see the sign of an installment jewelry place. There he bought a $75 watch on a down payment of $5—after proving that he had a good business connection—and a few minutes later he pawned the watch for $40, which he promptly deposited against the check of the night before.

"I should immediately have discharged the fellow," the banker said, in telling the clerk's story. "He was too slick a man to have around a bank. But I didn't, and now—well, sure enough, last week he got away with $23,000."—Fred C. Kelly in The Nation's Business.

LINDEMAN RETAINS COUNTY NET TITLE

Leetonia Star Beats Salem Player And Wins Cup For Third Year.

Harry Lindeman of Leetonia, retained his title as single champion of Columbiana county Tuesday afternoon when he defeated James McCleery, captain of the Salem team, at the Salem Country club, 4-6, 9-7, 6-4 and 7-5, and had the honor of receiving permanent possession of the cup which he has won now for the third straight year.

The third set of the match was the most interesting. It looked as though McCleery would open up and defeat the champion but Jim could not uncover his form of Monday when he had Lindeman 6-4 in the first set of the match which was postponed until Tuesday.

Lindeman was master throughout and plainly deserved to win. He is a player of tremendous speed, a quick shot and a clever one. Though little better as a player than McCleery who is a dangerous opponent for any champion, Lindeman combined skill with good fortune and went home a permanent champ with praise for his work.

Carton—The 332nd infantry, or the men who saw service in Italy during the World war, have concluded their reunion here and the 1924 convention will be held in Youngstown. More than a thousand attended this meeting and the vets placed a wreath on the tomb of former President McKinley Saturday.

LACK OF INTEREST AND READY MONEY HIT SPORT EVENTS

Boxing Attendance Small; Baseball And Racing Also Suffer.

New York, Sept. 5.—If they speak from the heart and not from the wallet pocket, men prominent in sport promotion can do no other than admit that the big money of the post war period is slowly but inevitably drifting elsewhere. The paid admissions at nearly every sport event have dwindled at an alarming rate during the present year and for reasons obvious and compelling, to-wit:

1—Lack of ready money.

2—Lack of interest.

It is a lack of money plus an over-dose of exploitation that has caused followers of boxing to greet all box office men with a touch of caution. Formerly, almost any kind of attraction would produce a capacity house at something above popular prices.

Today championship fights, notably those involving Criqui and Kilbane, Wilde and Villa, Dempsey and Gibbons and Wilson and Grab, played to meager audiences. Too many fights and too little money is the answer.

Insistent ballyhooing summons the innocent in great numbers to see Leonard and Tendler, and Firpo and Willard. It will do the same thing for Dempsey and Firpo.

In baseball, lack of adequate competition is the answer. The Yanks are cake-walking in the American league and in consequence local interest is dying a belated death. The west seems to be more concerned with the Yankee than New York itself.

As for the Giants, their average attendance at the Polo grounds is distinctly sub-normal. New York is dead against another all-Manhattan world's series and the turnstiles are paying the penalty.

Race track crowds are not what they were for the simple reason that one must have money to sustain one's active interest in racing and many of the camp followers are a short jump ahead of their next meal.

Logan—Mrs. Daniel Goss and Mrs. Charles Miller of Monett, Mo., sisters who were separated 50 years ago at the death of their mother, met this week for the first time at the Goss residence.
